

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

Rooms of the REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, Milwaukee, February 13, 1880. A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the Nominations of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 13, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional district and four from the State at large), to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 24 day of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention. R. H. BAKER, Chairman, CHAS. LUTING, Secy.

T. D. WEIKS, H. PALMER, J. H. KATZ, P. L. SPOONER, Jr., J. H. WAGGONER, E. BOWEN, J. R. BRIGHAM, L. F. FRISBY.

What Mr. Tilden can't capture he generally makes out to squish. The public debt was decreased a little over twelve millions of dollars during April.

Thurman, Hancock, and Hendricks begin to wish they had some of Tilden's "febleness." They would make good use of it for the next six weeks.

Fred Grant is reported to have said his father was a candidate for the reason that "the future salvation of the country demanded it." The Republican National Convention will hardly look upon it in that light.

The coinage at the United States mints for the month of April, 1880, was $9,131,900. Of this amount $6,810,700 was gold. Of the silver dollars which have to go begging for friends, over two millions were coined.

Hon Charles G. Williams, of this city, will deliver the oration at Gettysburg on Decoration Day. This important honor has been assigned to one of the most popular of the Republican orators of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Speaker Randall, who is a boom friend of Mr. Tilden, and who keeps nearer to the barrel than any other representative of the Sage, says Tilden will be nominated on the first ballot. Mr. Randall expresses the views of the Republicans on this point.

The most influential ecclesiastical body on this side the Atlantic—the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal—met at Cincinnati on Saturday, and will remain in session about one month. In the United States there are more than seventeen hundred thousand members of the Methodist Episcopal church, beside the 12,400 regular ministers. The quadrennial Conference of a church of such power and influence can not but be felt in the religious circles in this country. Some measures of vast importance to the church will come up for discussion, and several bishops are to be elected. The Conference is composed of 250 clerical and 150 lay delegates.

The funeral of Major-General Samuel P. Hentzelman took place at Buffalo today. He died at Washington on Saturday at the age of seventy-five. He was one of the most distinguished generals of the late war. He also won distinction in the Mexican war. At the battle of Bull Run he was severely wounded, but not before he had accomplished some gallant fighting and displaying some remarkable courage. He was also at the second battle of Bull Run, and in all the hot engagements on the Potomac during McClellan's command. He was placed on the retired list in 1869. Among all the generals who did noble deeds on the field and gallant fighting, there are none who command more praise than General Hentzelman.

THE WASHBURNE SENTIMENT IN WISCONSIN. Those who have been predicting for the past few months that Blaine would have a solid delegation from this State, have now sufficient evidence to convince themselves that they are poor political prophets. There may have been a time during the past winter when the indications were that the Maine Senator had a larger following in Wisconsin than any other Presidential candidate, but those indications do not exist now. The earnestness with which he enters into the contest for the nomination, and the disgusting wrangles between his faction and the leading supporters of General Grant, have driven very many of his friends to the support of Mr. Washburne. We doubt if there has been a time during the past year when Mr. Blaine could have secured the delegation from this State, and certainly he cannot get it now, and probably not half of the members.

It is not strange that the dashing Senator from Maine—"the plumed knight with his shining lance," is losing ground in Wisconsin. His loss of strength can be easily accounted for. He is brilliant, intensely patriotic, vigorous, mentally as well as physically, he has a good deal of personal magnetism about him, but taking a sober view of the political situation there are very many earnest Republicans who admire Mr. Blaine, but who honestly think that he is not the man who can meet the demands of the hour. Personally, they have nothing against him, but taking a comprehensive and independent view of the Presidential question, they firmly believe that there is stronger man for the race than he, and therefore the sentiment is rapidly growing in favor of Washburne. The Conventions which have already been held show that Washburne will not be behind Blaine in strength. In many Senate and Assembly districts, Washburne is the preference of a majority of the delegates, and this sentiment largely prevails among the masses of the Republican party.

This feeling favorable to Washburne is the outgrowth of the conviction that no man in the United States will make a stronger run than he. He is not only one of the very purest public men in this country, and a statesman of acknowledged ability, but he is outside of all rings and cliques, and therefore his name and character would do more to strengthen the Republican party, to give it hope, and to lead it to victory, than any other candidate whose name has yet been mentioned. Those who take a dispassionate view of the situation, and who have the interest of the country more at heart than the success of any one man or set of men, look upon Mr. Washburne as the man who can not be defeated.

In Wisconsin there are many men of this way of thinking, and their influence is being felt in the Conventions which are being held to select delegates to the State Convention; and if we are not badly mistaken, the Convention will not only refuse to instruct its delegates for Blaine, but that more than half of them will desire the nomination of Mr. Washburne.

WISCONSIN POLITICS.

The Delegates to the State Convention—A Washburne Boom.

UNION GROVE. Wm. May 11—The Hon. R. H. Baker, H. A. Sheldon, Christopher Roundtree, and Kund Adland were elected here to-day to the State Convention. Two favor Washburne, one Sherman, and one Blaine.

WAUKESHA. OCHOKOMOWOC, May 2—The following delegates to the State Convention were nominated at Waukesha last evening from this (Waukesha) county: Senatorial delegates, Warham Parks and A. E. Gilbert; First Assembly, Vernon Tichenor and J. A. Lines; Second Assembly, Wm K Washburn and F. Tucker. The majority of these are in favor of Washburne for President.

GREEN BAY. May 2—The Republican Convention, held yesterday, elected delegates to the State Convention next Wednesday, with the following result: From the First Assembly district, L. B. Sale, and Peter Mueller; from the Second Assembly District, W. J. Fish and C. A. Willard; from the Second Senatorial District, L. Howland and E. Wendner. No attempt was made to instruct the delegates.

MANITOWOC. MANITOWOC, May 1—At the Republican County Convention, held here this afternoon, C. Estabrooke and W. H. Henschmeyer were chosen delegates from this district, Charles Luting and Charles Gelbke delegates at large. An attempt was made to instruct the delegates to vote for neither Grant nor Blaine, but it was voted down. A resolution was then passed declaring Washburne the choice of the Manitowoc County Republicans.

FOND DU LAC. FOND DU LAC, May 1—The Senatorial Convention of the twenty-third Senatorial District, for the election of delegates to the State Convention, was held to-day with the following result: Heard, Grant first choice, and Senator Bennett, Washburne first choice. At the Third Assembly District Convention, held after the Senatorial Convention, O. P. Dow, Grant first, last, and all the time, and D. W. Curtis, Washburne first choice, were elected delegates to the State Convention. The Grant sentiment is largely ahead here.

WINNEBAGO COUNTY. OSHKOSH, May 1—The conventions to-day completed the list of delegates for Winnebago county to attend the State Convention, May 5, as follows: Senatorial District—Phileas Sawyer (Blaine); Alton Wood (Grant); First Assembly District, O. F. Chase and S. D. Benedict (both Grant); Second, J. B. Hamilton (Washburne); George B. Pratt (Sherman); Third, George H. Buckstaff (Blaine); H. W. Webster (Washburne); Fourth, J. A. Foster and T. E. Loup (both Grant). Thus it will be seen that Winnebago County stands five for Grant against five for the field. The Grant delegates are of the pronounced Blaine type. The result is gratifying, inasmuch as the Blaine men have claimed and worked to secure a solid delegation. The hopes of the Blaine men to secure an unopposed delegation from the State to Chicago are "growing less and less daily."

SENATORIAL CAUCUS.

An Early Adjournment of Congress Favored by Republicans.

WASHINGTON, May 2—The Republican Senators held a caucus yesterday and decided they would cooperate with the majority in the effort to secure the earliest possible adjournment of the session. A suggestion was made that perhaps it would be good policy for the Republicans to so work as to protract the session. It was shown that they could easily do this by offering amendments to the appropriation bills upon which a long debate would ensue, and out of which the opportunity could be seized to make political capital. The idea was also advanced that the Republicans should vote with the Committee on Privileges and Elections to give the Kellogg case the precedence over all other matters. But, after a full discussion, it was concluded that it would not be expedient for the Republicans to assume any share of the responsibility in prolonging the session, as it was well said that large is always glad when Congress adjourns. It was finally determined that while the Republicans would throw no obstacle in the way of an early adjournment, they would make the best of any and all opportunities which the Democrats might give them by keeping the Kellogg case before the Senate. It was decided also that no extraneous amendments should be offered to the appropriation bills.

ADJOURNMENT.

What Will Prevent Early Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, May 2—The question of the final adjournment of Congress by June 1st is complicated to a very considerable extent by the tariff question. It is noticeable that those who are foremost in urging an early adjournment—the date being fixed by these persons at June 1—are those who are determined that if they can prevent it there shall be no tariff legislation at this session. Prominent among the advocates of an early adjournment is Speaker Randall. Of course an adjournment at that time precludes legislation on the proposed new tariff bill, which it now seems probable will be reported from the Ways and Means Committee. That is the result, however, which the speaker much desires to accomplish, and he is a great power in the house, and can do much to accomplish his objects. If the question of final adjournment depended upon the house alone it might be possible to finish the appropriation bills by that time, excluding all other business. There would be strong opposition to such a course in the Senate, however, controls the situation.

That body will insist upon its right to full time to discuss the appropriation bills, and, as there is no previous question, there is always danger that the Senate may consume much time in political debates, and there is now a disposition on the part of some leading Republican Senators to insist upon a debate upon the Kellogg case, with a view to finally determining whether he shall hold his seat before the Presidential campaign begins. Senator Beck is of opinion that Congress can adjourn by the 1st of June.

OBSEQUIES.

Of the late Hon. W. H. Miner, at Fond du Lac.

FOND DU LAC, May 2—The funeral of Ex-Senator W. H. Miner was held at his late home in this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The services were in charge of the Masonic fraternity, assisted by many from abroad. The estimation in which the deceased was held by his fellow townsmen is demonstrated by the immense number that were in attendance.

The services at the house were conducted by Rev. Geo. B. Eastman, in a very beautiful and impressive manner, after which the procession moved under command of Hon. D. C. Lamb to the cemetery, where the Masonic service was read by John S. Burrows, P. M. of Fond du Lac Lodge, and also Past Grand Junior Ward of the Grand Lodge. There were in attendance about 175 Master Masons, among them, some of the most distinguished in the State. Eighty carriages followed the deceased to his last resting place. The day though somewhat warm was the most beautiful of the season,—nature seeming to rejoice—not in the death, but in the blessed peace which our Brother had found; peace from the turmoil of the world, peace from the tongue of reproach and the bitter calumny which had assailed him. It was well that his Brothers of the mystic tie, those who knew him best and longest, should perform the last sad duty of the living for the dead. It demonstrates that the heart of man, though hard at times, and often unforgiving, yet amidst adversity, persecution and death, there are those whose hearts melt at the cry of distress, and perform a simple duty, though the rest of the world may look upon the work with derision and speak ungratefully of the departed one.

A special train from Milwaukee brought to attend the funeral Hon. Casper M. Sanger, Hon. T. W. Van Schick, Sheriff Van Vechten, besides the following named Masons: Past Grand Masters, Hon. H. L. Palmer, J. B. Cottrell and M. J. Youngs; Past Grand High Priest, William C. Swan, and others as follows: T. E. Balding, J. G. Towne, E. P. Matthews, A. R. Matthews, J. B. Cronwell, Albert Hardy, H. S. Bracken, A. Streeter, Lem Ellisworth, Q. A. Matthews, J. Austin Brown, Adam Roth, J. W. Woodhull and Hon. L. F. Frisby.

OBITUARY.

OSHKOSH, May 2—Carl J. Kraby, County Register of Deeds, and city Clerk of Neenah, died rather suddenly at the residence of his daughter in this city, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, of pneumonia, contracted a week ago. Deceased was a native of Norway, and 51 years of age. In 1859 he served as turnkey at the State Prison. He enlisted in the war and was wounded at the battle of Perryville. In 1862 he was appointed United States Consul to Pargen, in Norway, and held the position seven years, returning to Neenah in 1869. He has held the office of City Clerk of Neenah since the village became a corporation. His remains were escorted to the depot by a large number of prominent citizens of Neenah, including the Common Council and a delegation of the Masons of this city. The funeral will take place at Neenah to-morrow.

MASSACRES.

Memorable and Bloody Events in the Histories of Nations and Religions.

From the New York Mail.

History's page is, metaphorically speaking, written in blood. A single event, at the record of which we shudder, and which glances at it has caused the death of millions, has been chronicled. This is particularly noticeable among the historic massacres of which we write, and while we shudder at the dark deeds that have been perpetrated with and without apparent cause, still we are irresistibly attracted to the perusal of the fearful tale, and sympathize with the unfortunate sufferers, while the instigators of their torture are forever branded with infamy.

Between the years 397 B. C. and 70 A. D., occurred many of the scenes of slaughter; in the former year all the Carthaginians in Sicily were murdered; in 331 B. C. Alexander the Great showed his revengeful spirit, by causing 2,000 Tyrians to be crucified and 8,000 to be put to the sword for refusing to surrender. Tyre to him, again in 154 B. C. Demetrius, the conqueror, the tyrant of Syria, stained Antioch with the blood of 100,000 people, because they did not capitulate on his demand. In A. D. 48 (France) in 102 B. C. 200,000 Teutons suffered under Marius, while in the year 88 B. C., by order of Mithridates, King of Pontus, all the men, women and children throughout Asia were cruelly put to death by the Romans. The Jewish Marius, two years later, again caused the death of many nobles at Rome. But the most startling yet recorded was that at the

by Titus, in the year 70, A. D. 1,100,000, were put to the sword, the great temple was burned and the city laid waste. Forty five years later the Jews, headed by Andrea, destroyed 100,000 Greeks and Romans in Cyrene. Seleucia in 167 witnessed the massacre of 400,000 inhabitants by Cassius Emperor. M. Aurelius, Alexander in 217 that of many thousand citizens by order of Antonius, and Gaul in 273 suffered the loss of 700,000 of her people through the heartless Emperor Probus. At Nicodemus, in 270, eighty Christian fathers were, by order of Emperor Gratian, put in a ship, set on fire and driven out to sea. Theodosius in 390 invited 7,000 to a circus and then put them to death. Constantinople next attracts our attention as a field of atrocities, for in 532, for revolt, impelled by the tyranny of two rapacious ministers, 200,000 were sent to eternity, and at the same city in 1554 the Latins suffered severely under Andronicus. In the religious persecutions of the Waldenses and Albigenes in Toulouse, in 1209 sword and gibbet carried off tens of thousands.

SICILIAN VESPER MASSACRE.

On March 30, 1282, at the hour of vespers on Easter Monday, the inhabitants of Palermo flew to arms and fell upon the French, who were all put to death. Women and children were not spared, and even Sicilian women with child by Frenchmen were murdered. The famous inscription which followed swelled the great number of victims.

In the Castle of Verdun, in 1317, 500 Jews had taken shelter from the peasants who assailed them, and although they made a valiant defense, fighting to the last, they were forced to yield, and their death resulted. John, Duke of Burgundy, reduced the population of Paris several thousand by the massacre which he instigated in 1418. Christian II., in 1530, invited the Swedish nobility to a banquet in Stockholm. They never attended another feast. And now we come to an event which has forever stained the history of France. We may yet be called to guard against a similar one in our country, for it has long since been demonstrated that the shedding of Protestant blood shall not be a barrier to oppose the ever-spreading Catholic religion; I refer to the

ST. BARTHOLOMEW MASSACRE.

On August 4, 1572, by Charles IX., of France, at the instigation of Catherine de Medici, his mother. The cause, details and results of this horrible scene are too well known to require recapitulation. It is enough to say that 70,000 Huguenots were martyrs to their cause, while solemn thanksgivings were offered in Rome, medals commemorative of the event were struck in Paris, and Spain applauded the butchery. The English court as a mark of Protestant detestation put on mourning and received the French embassy in solemn silence.

Crotia, in August 1592, Thora, in August 1724, and Batavia, October, 1749, were scenes of violence and rapine. In the first named place the Protestant again suffered by order of the Chancellor of Poland; in the second, 12,000 Chinese, on a pretense of insurrection; while in the last, the Turks, with their characteristic brutality, took the lives of 61,000 Christians. But the Turks themselves suffered at Ismail (December 22, 1790) a loss of 30,000 soldiers and 6,000 women. By the proclamation of Desallenes, thousands of whites were murdered at St. Domingo on March 29, 1805. A French massacre occurred in Madrid, May 2, 1808, one of "Mamelukes" in the citadel of Cairo, March 1, 1841, and another in May, 1815, by the Catholics at Nismes. vast numbers of people were put to death March 6, 1820, by the ferocious soldiers; 300 English nobles met their death at Salisbury Plain, May 1, 1471. In 580 the monks of Bangor, to the number of 1,200, were murdered. The most bloody massacre that ever occurred in London was that of Danes, November 13, 1002. A rather peculiar case now attracts us, namely, the MASSACRE OF YORK.

In England, 1189. Five hundred Jews took shelter in the Castle of York, and three killed themselves from fear. Possibly this should be classed among "memorable suicides," but as it was individually self-massacre, we give it a place here.

In the Bristol colonies in Ireland, in 1200, was the famous "Cullin's Words" destruction and on October 23, 1641, began O'Neill's rebellion, in which, ere it ended, 150,000 Protestants were sacrificed to the interests of Catholicism. The McDonald clans suffered at Glencoe, May 9, 1691. In the "Emerald Isle," in 1795, 184 men and women were burned, picked or drowned, while the British Government blotted its record by drowning at Dartmouth, on the 16th of April, 1816, sixty-four American prisoners.

But we cannot here continue to record these statistics. No matter to what history we may turn or to what epoch of time, we there find the same fearful tales. Ancient and modern history teem with them, and even in our own land have occurred many of such displays of inhumanity. The frequent ferocious attacks of Indians upon our colonial settlers and the retaliation thereby called forth—in New England, New York and Virginia, especially—the unjustifiable bloodshed during the French and Indian and Revolutionary wars, are all instances of which we might speak. The consequences of the Mexican cruelty shown at the Alamo and Goliad massacre, give those two events a prominence in our history, and when we consider the hellish deeds that were done by many Confederate officers and soldiers in the late great struggle, under the guise of war, we cannot but feel that every loyal heart that was still by a rebel hand was a massacre in itself. Andersonville, Libby and Belle Isle prisons, with their "dead lines," are to be remembered as spots of "memorable massacres," for, as gladly as we would efface their record, yet the patronage of our friend, who are allied as I was with that terrible and dangerous disease Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. It cured me completely.

men are enticed to enter by the sounds of music, and when they are displayed all the varieties of intoxicating drinks, together with other nameless fascinations, invite the unwary and unsuspecting. The keepers of every immoral place of resort in the city, of course know, that all the government clerks are paid their salaries at the close of each month, and hence every possible strategy is employed to attract them to their places of resort, and to keep them there as long as possible. In many cases clerks have no money left, after paying their board bills at the end of the month, and a few come out in debt.

But while there are so many influences to mislead Department employees, there are at the same time active agencies continually at work, to restrain the careless and the wayward. There is no lack of societies, for moral and intellectual improvement, as well as for national amusement. Lyceums, Shakespeare reading circles, parlor dramas and various other places, where the young men, but persons of all ages have access and may spend their leisure hours agreeably. Probably one of the most prominent agencies, especially designed for young men, is the institution of the Young Men's Christian Association. It occupies a noble building, having spacious parlors, and a large reading room, supplied with newspapers and magazines; also a library of 10,000 volumes—all of which are free to those who choose to avail themselves of them.

The managers of the Association, give monthly receptions, to which care is taken to invite persons, who have not had the advantage of making acquaintances in the city. At these entertainments refreshments were furnished free to all. Besides social interchange, vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations, add variety to the occasion. There are also two evenings in the week, devoted to receiving calls, in the parlors of the Association in a less formal way. Strangers in the city who are desirous of making acquaintances, are invited to come and feel themselves at home.

Thus, there are in the city of Washington, two potent office influences at work; one whose object it is to get gain, though at the cost of sacrificing character, and depleting the money pockets of the employees of the government, as well as all other classes, who can be induced to spend their wages, for that which tends to poverty and degradation. The other influence is unending in efforts, to save from ruin and disgrace, and to elevate in the scale of humanity. When the war between these two opposing forces, will be brought to a termination, no mortal man knows.

—The young ladies begin to shoot again to-day—paper wads.
—The lady friends of the Rifles give a May party at Armory hall to-night.
—Special communication of Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M., this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

—The Riordan case was continued till next term in the Circuit Court to-day. The case of Cantman vs. Stevens is now on trial.

—The round trip tickets from hereto Madison, to the delegates attending the Convention next Wednesday, will be $1.95.

—William Millington lately sold to George Scarcell a three-year-old steer, which alive weighed 1650 pounds, and dressed 1036 pounds.

—At the communion service at the Baptist church yesterday, five new members received the right hand of fellowship, all from one family.

—Miss Nettie Noyes arrived in the city from Watertown Friday evening, and this morning enters upon her duties as second assistant in the High School building.

—The money order business of the post-office amounted last week to $2,555.25, there being 140 orders issued amounting to $1,736.31, and 56 orders paid amounting to $918.94.

—The sad news reaches us that A. G. Benedict, who formerly lived in the outskirts of this city, and who was a prominent member of the Baptist church here, died at Ionia, Mich., on the 17th of April.

—Among the visitors at the public schools this week were Miss Bates, Miss Grunwald, Miss Drake, and Miss Ray, of Janesville. The three first named ladies are teachers in the public schools of that city.—Beloit Free Press.

—E. W. Kilne has gone into an extensive business at Augusta, Kansas. He with four other men are building a block there, there being five stores each 25 by 100 feet, and he is placed in charge of the construction. He is to occupy one of the stores himself.

—Mrs. H. A. Smith went to Fond du Lac, to-day, to take part in the Doctor of Alcantara, which is to be given by the musical society of that city. We feel assured that she will prove a great help in the successful rendition of that opera, and that she will do herself credit.

—John Whiteley, the manager of the Florence Herbert Combination was in the city to-day. He reports a good business in Monroe. The company open in Watertown to-night for a week's stay, and expect to return to Janesville for three nights, the latter part of this month. They will draw big houses as everybody enjoyed their week's stay here hugely.

—Captain Rager starts to-morrow for Mexico to do some engineering, the purpose being to supply some of the mines beyond Santa Fe with water from reservoirs in the mountains. A number of persons go with him from here, among them being Michael Lynch, John Pease, Sam Lightbody, E. L. Barry, E. L. Hollister, John Cummings, and Frank Barrows. They expect to be gone about six months.

FREE FUN.

Fun almost always costs something, but all our readers can have some for nothing as Smith & Son, the clothiers, present to each of them a puzzle free, as can be seen by looking at their card in another column. Prizes are offered to those who will first answer the puzzle. Smith & Son are wide awake, and now they give a chance or young and old to test their wit in a little harmless amusement. It's puzzling puzzle, but after all it is not half as hard to tell as how in the world Smith & Son sell such good goods at such low prices.

BURR ROBBINS' OPENING.

The Tents Well Filled Afternoon and Evening—A Good Show.

Saturday afternoon there was a crowd at the opening exhibition of Burr Robbins' great show. The menagerie attracted a good deal of attention as it was crowded with curiosities from all parts of the world, and presented a more varied showing of the animal kingdom than in any previous season. The circus proper was also in keeping with the promises made. Of course as is always the case with an opening exhibition, there was some dragging, and a few hitches, but no serious drawbacks to an enjoyable entertainment; but in the evening this all disappeared, and everything went along as smoothly as though the show had been out for weeks.

One of the pleasing incidents of the afternoon exhibition was the appearance of Burr Robbins himself, and as he entered and took his seat, the cheers which swelled into a grand chorus of welcome, showed how rejoiced all were that he had so nearly recovered as to be able to be present. The public found in Postmaster H. A. Patterson an able spokesman to express their feelings in words, and he stepped forward and gave an address of congratulation to which Mr. Robbins briefly responded. The enthusiastic reception given him, and the honest and hearty congratulations he received, moved him greatly, and the attendant excitement was a severe test to his strength, and he was obliged to retire soon to the quiet of his Spring Brook home, where he will remain until he has regained his strength and vigor.

Mr. Robbins has gathered a large number of first-class artists this season, and the showings of skill, strength and agility, are sufficiently marvelous and varied, as to make an entertainment which will satisfy any crowd, and fully sustain the increasing reputation of his show. Every department of the show is in good shape, and its success this season is certain. The attendance in the evening was very large, the tents being crowded to their full capacity, and the exhibition won for itself many words of high praise.

DECORATION DAY.

It is nearing the time when preparations should be made for the proper observance of Decoration Day, which this year falls upon Sunday, but which will probably be observed the following Monday. Capt. McLeugan, of the Beloit Guards, has signified the willingness of the company to come to this city, and join with the other companies of the First Battalion, under command of Col. Britton, in duly observing the day. The Whitewater Rifles have been also invited to join, and there seems no doubt but that all the companies of the battalion will be present. The Delavan company has not yet been made a part of the battalion, but it is in time, it too, will be urged to take part. Arrangements will need to be made for the military visitors, and the usual contributions are to be solicited for the general decorations. It looks as if the observance of the day would be an occasion of more than ordinary interest.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the St. Patrick's T. A. and B. Society, held last night: Spiritual Director—Rev J. M. Doyle. President—Patrick Kavanagh. Vice President—Phillip Doherty. Recording Secretary—James Hickey. Financial Secretary—William Cunninghamham.

Treasurer—Michael Murphy. Board of Directors—for three years—Henry Spong, John Baker, Sr., Thomas Hanlon. For two years—Maurice Stack. For one year—Thomas Cullen.

Trustees—Adam Sanner, three years; C. F. Grant, two years; T. S. Nolan. Janitor—Patrick Birmingham. Stewards—First ward, John Brown; Second ward, James Connors; Third ward, Lawrence Cronin; Fourth ward, Michael Griffin; Fifth ward, John Byrne.

UNDER THE HOOPS.

A little boy, the son of Mike Brulinger, was quite seriously hurt the other day at a rehearsal in Burr Robbins' big tent. He was standing with other boys watching the horses as they entered the ring, and started to run across the entrance just as one of the horses came in. The horse's knees struck him, knocked him down, and the horse's hind feet were placed on his stomach giving him a bad squeeze. No bones were broken, but the internal injuries were such as to cause some alarm. He is better to-day, but his condition is still critical. Drs. Cullen and others are attending him.

AROUND THE TABLE.

Saturday evening the members of the Round Table met at Cannon's hall and discussed the topic of "History." Preceding the discussion of this topic Miss Carrie Zehlinger read a paper on "Words," it being postponed from the last meeting. Rev. A. L. Royce, who presided, opened the talk on "History," the appointed leader being absent. The talk was kept up by volunteers, J. P. Haire answering the question—"What is History?" J. C. McCull treating of the best method to study history. Rev. Mr. Sawin, Rev. Mr. Chapell, and S. A. Hudson also spoke on the subject, and from the informal mingling of thoughts and opinions much practical instruction was gained by those present, who have been so often puzzled as to what historical studies to pursue and how to pursue them. The next meeting will be May 15, when the subject of "Authors" will be considered, Miss A. J. Hobart leading.

DOG GONE BAD.

It is always best to know what dog, and whose dog it is, before shooting. A con of Lemuel Paul lately shot a dog, which he thought was of no particular value, but which it appears was none other than a valuable dog owned by Burr Robbins, and which had won honors in the ring, as well as made money for his master, by riding a pony in a very artistic and wonderful manner for a capite. The dog was a wonder, and had many a time won the plaudits of the crowd by the skillful way in which he would cling to a pony's back in the race around the ring. Mr. Robbins had paid $350 for this dog and the pony which he rode, but the dog died two years or so ago and another pony was broken for this special act. Mr. Robbins would not have parted with the dog for any amount of money, because in his business the dog could do a riding act which was as amusing and interesting as any act which a $200 week's man could perform. As soon as Mr. Paul found that manner of dog his son had slaughtered, and the value placed on it, he proceeded to settle with the owner, and under the circumstances, Mr. Robbins called it quits for $400, though that of course will by no means cover the loss to him.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

Z. P. Bardick and S. H. Slaymaker Chosen Delegates—The Convention Evidently in Favor of Washburne.

The Republican Senatorial Convention met this afternoon at the Court House, for the purpose of electing two delegates to the State Convention. After the reading of the call by Hon. J. R. Bennett, the convention organized by electing Hon. James Sutherland Chairman and W. W. Clarke, of Milton, as Secretary.

On motion the Chairman appointed S. S. Northrup, Z. P. Bardick, and W. H. Stark, as Committee on Credentials. After the report had been made and adopted the Convention proceeded to ballot for delegates, the first being an informal ballot, C. F. Dickey and E. K. Felt being named as tellers. Before the balloting a rambling discussion was had with a view of bringing out the opinions of several persons as to their choice for presidential candidates. Hon. J. B. Casaday was named as a delegate to Madison, but the Convention was informed that he declined having his name used, as he could not attend if elected. Henry F. Hobart was named as a Grant man. Col. Z. P. Bardick, on being called out, expressed himself in favor of Washburne, with Grant second choice, Blaine third and Sherman fourth. B. B. Eldredge expressed himself in favor of Grant. W. W. Clarke, on being questioned, said he had no choice between Washburne and Grant, with Sherman as third choice.

The informal ballot resulted:

Whole number of votes	59
Necessary to a choice	30
Z. P. Bardick	34
B. B. Eldredge	15
H. F. Hobart	1
W. W. Clarke	1
J. W. Stark	1
Blank	1

On motion Colonel Z. P. Bardick was chosen by acclamation as one of the delegates.

Before another ballot was taken the names of W. H. Stark, S. H. Slaymaker and B. B. Eldredge were presented. Mr. Stark, on being called on, said he was in favor of whoever was the nominee of the Chicago Convention. If he had the making of President himself he would choose Grant, but he believed in sending untrammelled delegates, in whom the convention had confidence. He was in favor of that nominee, who could carry New York State. Mr. Slaymaker pronounced himself as preferring Washburne. Mr. Eldredge had expressed himself in favor of Grant. The informal ballot resulted:

Whole number of votes	59
Necessary to a choice	30
S. H. Slaymaker	42
B. B. Eldredge	19
W. H. Stark	8

On motion S. H. Slaymaker was declared by acclamation the other delegate.

The delegates elected were authorized to send substitutes in case they were unable to attend.

Adjournment was then taken.

LAXING ON OF HANDS.

Yesterday Bishop Welles, of Milwaukee, visited the Episcopal churches of this city. In the morning he officiated at Trinity church, and preached an able sermon on the text found in the seventh verse of the sixteenth chapter of St. John—"Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you." The speaker sought to show that however blessed it was to have the companionship of Christ in the human form, yet in this form he could be in but one place at one time, and that it was much more blessed to be assured of his spiritual presence and help at all times and in all places. The forty days between Christ's death and ascension, in which he would suddenly appear and disappear, seemed to be for the purpose of bridging over the sudden change between Christ's human presence and his spiritual presence, and to teach his disciples that the latter was as real as the former. The speaker urged his hearers to make this fact of an ever-present Comforter, a practical part of their lives, and to use its inspiration for the doing of more righteous acts, and the thinking of more pure thoughts.

At the close of the sermon a class of eight young people presented themselves at the altar and were confirmed. The Bishop gave them some excellent advice concerning their future duties, and urged them to cling to the Lord's prayer, as the essence of all true prayer, to the ten commandments, as the essence of obedience, and to the apostles' creed, as the faith delivered to the saints.

The floral decorations of the church were very pleasing, there being on the font, and in front of the pulpit and lectern, bright gatherings of flowers, in which the pure white callas were prominent.

In the evening the Bishop was at Christ Episcopal church, and preached again, dwelling mainly on sundry prominent doctrines of the Episcopal church, and the reasons for the observance of several of the church days. Only one person was confirmed. The church was quite lavishly decorated, the marble font being surmounted by a pyramid of flowers above which appeared a floral cross. Blooming amarillis stood in front of the altar, and plants and flowers beautified the church, in all giving a pleasing appearance.

OBITUARY.

Died at his residence on Mount Zion, on Sunday morning April 25th, of paralysis of the lungs, A. J. Bennett, aged 53 years. Mr. Bennett was born in Meadville, Crawford county, Pa., Sept. 10th, 1828, and came to Wisconsin in the spring of 1844 with his father's family, of which he was the last survivor of three children, of which the late Mrs. Dr. Corryell was his sister. He leaves a wife, who is in feeble health, to mourn his loss and battle the storms of life alone, she having but one brother living, Mr. Joe Holmes, Minneapolis county, Iowa.

Mr. Bennett had lived on Mount Zion 37 years and was widely known through this section, and his many acts of kindness and deeds of charity will live in the hearts of those that have been his associates, until the all-wise Father calls them to lay down the armor and wear the crown.

Pretty and Young.

In every feature but the hair, which had grown white from fever. This lady at 35 writes us: "I have used Parker's Hair Balm six months and am more than pleased with it. It has restored the natural brown color of my hair and given it a silky softness, nicer than ever before. There is no dandruff, no falling hair, and it leaves the scalp so clean and nice and cool that I am ever so much pleased, and I feel and look like myself again." The beautiful, fresh and vigorous hair it produces, together with its property of restoring gray or faded hair to the natural youthful color, and entirely freeing the head from dandruff and itching, surprises no less than it pleases. Sold in large bottles at only 50 cents and $1.00 by all first class druggists.

CITY NOTICES.

From the easy expectoration, increased respiratory power of the Lungs, and the removal of irritation, manifest from cessation of Cough and other alarming symptoms, after using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is clear that the formation of tubercular matter is not only stopped, but that already deposited is being carried away.

Would it pay to save enough every month by preserving food (any required length of time) that spoils in hot weather in a few hours, to buy a new dress? The Alaska will do it, and no other Refrigerator will! For sale at Hanchett & Sheldon's.

ACCORD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. ISHAM, Station 2, New York City. jan18daw3m without its bottle of SOZODONT. As a mouth wash it is most sanative; as a toilet article a luxury, and its regular use from early youth to old age, would tend to secure and maintain beautiful and healthy teeth. It is also most economical, as a few drops upon the brush is all that is needed for efficacy and pleasure.

No House Complete

A few drops of SPALDING'S GLUE on a brush, properly applied, holds like a vice. my35daw3m

Mothers! Mothers! Mothers!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

For Soils and Carbuncles.

From Rev. Richard Edes, of Bolton, Mass. "For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. A carbuncle, which ultimately occupied a space of three or four square inches, formed in the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away; and the protrusion and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the PERUVIAN SYRUP; I continued taking it until I had used five bottles; since then I have had nothing of the kind. I attribute this improved state of the system entirely to the PERUVIAN SYRUP; and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave me partial and temporary relief; but this remarkable remedy, with a kind of intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character." Said by dealers generally. Sold in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson. my35daw3m
